The American Medical Association is holding its forty-fifth annual convention at San Francisco this week.

The $5,000 libel suit of William Gaines against the Henderson Gleaner was decided in favor of defendant.

State Senator Wortham has withdrawn from the contest for the Democratic Congressional nomination in the Fourth District.

A Cincinnati man has sued L. Gov. Alfred and ex-Treasurer Sharp for $40,000 lost at Middleboro by alleged misrepresentations.

The administrator of Logan Curd's estate has advertised to sell the Murray Ledger on the 23 of June to the highest bidder on 12 month's time.

The Supreme court has affirmed the decision of the Virginia court of Appeals refusing to permit Mrs. Belva Lockwood to practice law in that State.

The President has sent to the senate the nomination of Charles Neilson, of Maryland, to be Second Assistant Postmaster General, Vice J. Lowrie, resigned.

The firm of Steele & Walker, one of the largest wholesale grocery houses in the West, has assigned to St. Joseph, Mo. Their liabilities are estimated at $700,000.

Louisville lawyers and doctors will have to pay license to practice in that city hereafter, or be arrested and fined. Fifty warrants have already been issued for delinquents.

Returns from the Oregon election show that the Republicans carried the State. Lord is elected Governor by 15,000 plurality. The Republicans will control both branches of the Legislature.

At the Democratic convention held at Nicholasville Tuesday, Hon. James B. McCreary was nominated for reelection to congress from the Eighth District without opposition. This will make his sixth term.

Two hundred negroes have left Birmingham, Ala. to take the place of the striking Pennsylvania miners. It is the intention of the Pennsylvania operators to fill every strikers place and proceed with work.

The Ohio Republicans met in State convention at Columbus Tuesday. There are serious differences in the Committee on Resolutions over the silver question, and all night sessions are being held to reach an agreement.

At Owensboro this week, Judge Harr, of the United States Circuit court, rendered a decision to the effect that the Separate Coach law is unconstitutional. It will likely be appealed.

The White Sulphur springs, W. Va., long the most fashionable summer resort in the South, was sold last week to J. T. Burke, of Alexandria, Va., for $250,000. The place and improvements have cost over three millions and the recent purchase is considered a bargain.

The outcome of the litigation in the big railroad deal between the Chesapeake, Ohio and Southwestern, the Louisville and Nashville and the Illinois Central railroads is not yet known. Judge Edwards, of Louisville, has under advisement the case of the State of Kentucky vs. the L. & N., but it will probably be several months before a decision in the case is rendered.

A Hiselville correspondent of the Glasgow Times denies that this is the year for locusts. He claims that the locusts visited this country in '65, '72 and '80, and therefore doesn't look for them again until 1906.

The fact is that the insects should be called "13-year locusts," as they were here in large numbers in '65, '68, '81 and they are with us again.

Ex-President Harrison has been admitted to the United States Bar of the Chicago Court.

The Nebraska anti-lottery publication law has been held unconstitutional by Judge Scott, of that State.

The people of Union county are aroused over an effort to levy a special railroad tax, and serious trouble is threatened.

The Kentucky Press Association met in Frankfort Wednesday and will be in session three days. A full account of the proceedings will be given in our next issue.

In Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Indiana, Kansas, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota and Wisconsin, a man may vote before he is a citizen, provided he has declared his intention of becoming one.

Our contemporary, the Henderson Gleaner, notwithstanding the reassurance from such papers as the Owensboro Messenger and Hopkinsville Kentuckian still imagines a shadow before it and cannot shake off the dread of a dark "boss."

The Gleaner has nothing to fear from that source.—Sturgis Enterprise.

A much bigger wheel than the great Ferris Wheel, which revolved in the Midway and is to be set up in New York, is building at Earl's court, London. It is a 400-foot wheel, and will carry 2,000 people in fifty cars. Three restaurants will be built on platforms at varying heights on the supporting towers, and a big ball room will crown the towers at the axis.

A very important decision was recently made by the United States supreme court to the effect that a telegraph company is not liable for damages to the sender of a message for errors in transmission, adding that by the terms of the contract printed on the back of the company's blank, the company was not liable for mistakes in transmission or delivery or non-delivery of any repeated message beyond the amount received for sending the same.

In speaking of the encouraging outlook for the Democratic party this year the Palladium News says: "At the recent Democratic primary in Union county 2,940 votes were cast. The primary elections all over the State are showing unusually large votes for the Democratic candidates and give little comfort to the Republicans who have lately taken on a new supply of hope and the Populists who are, as usual, claiming the earth. The Kentucky Democrat is never dismayed no matter how great the pressure without or within. Landslides may come and landslides may go, but the untarnished Democracy of Kentucky goes on forever."

The novel in the June number of "Tales from Town Topics" is a sprightly affair called "An Unspeakeable Siren," a title that eloquently describes the heroine of the story, Nora Magazine, who is a strangely fascinating young society girl of very startling characteristics. She is a hysterical and morbid creature, that rather repels people at first, but who grows on one, and ends by exerting a terrible spell, a good deal after the fashion of a snake. In telling his story the author provides many brilliant pictures of life in New York society, and his character drawing of modern types is especially clever. "An Unspeakeable Siren" is accompanied by a collection of short stories, sketches, poems and witticisms taken from back numbers of Town Topics. The whole is a bright summer volume. CLARDY LETTER.

Clardy, Ky., June 8, 1904.

Deputy Sheriff Frank Campbell was bustling around among the boys Friday.

But very little tobacco has been set in our community yet and if the drought continues 10 days longer the crop will be exceedingly short. Many of the farmers have already planted their land in corn.

Mrs. Dr. D. M. White, who has been sick for several months, is slowly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Benj. White, of Williams station, Tenn., have been visiting relatives here for three weeks past and will return home next week.

Messrs Jackson and Knox, of Dawson, have taken the contract to finish the Macedonia Christian church and will have it ready for the brush with in the next two weeks. When complete it will be one of the handsomest churches in north Christian.

CLYDE.

The man who waits for a straight club never wins much.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and curing the system of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

COMMENCEMENT.

The Commencement exercises of Bathel Female College were continued since the date of our last report. Monday evening the annual concert was given by the music classes. In both vocal and instrumental music the performances of the pupils showed the results of their excellent training under Misses Follansby and Phillips. The high character of the work done in this department of the school is well shown by the names of composers found on the programme: Beethoven, Chopin, Schumann, Moszkowski, Weber, Albeniz and Rheinberger. Miss Follansby will continue in charge of the music next year.

The graduating exercises were held on Tuesday evening in the Baptist church. After prayer by Rev. R. W. Morehead, and some admirably rendered musical selections, Rev. H. C. Speller was introduced as the speaker of the evening, and delivered one of the most admirable and stimulating addresses ever given in this city, on the subject: "The Purpose of the Divine in the Human." He spoke without notes, with a clear and forcible enunciation, and with a depth of earnestness that swept the audience along with him. We hope he will visit our city again soon. The graduating class received their diplomas, with a few words of commendation from President McCall, upon the diligent and faithful work of the class.

Wednesday afternoon a large company assembled on the lawn to witness the planting of the Class Tree, and the interesting ceremonies commenced thereat. Dr. H. C. Speller made a brief and appropriate address.

The Education class gave a very delightful entertainment at the college Wednesday evening. The chapel was crowded with a most enthusiastic audience. At length the time came to close the forty-first commencement of this college. This has been a prosperous and pleasant session, the largest boarding school here since the war. Most of the faculty will remain the places of those leaving are now filled with teachers of the highest excellence, and the outlook for next fall, in spite of the hard times, is better than ever.

Many of the pupils of this session have already engaged rooms for September, and the labors of the President and Mrs. McCall during the summer will no doubt secure many new pupils. We extend our congrats to the graduates to the graduating class, and to the college, on the completion of another year in the life of this institution, of which every citizen is proud.
